

FORESTRY

AT MISERDEN

An exciting opportunity for an enterprising Head Forester to join the team at Miserden in a role encompassing both forestry management and woodchip production for a unique community heating scheme.

Miserden is a progressive rural estate in heart of the Cotswold Hills encompassing approximately 700 acres of mature native woodland.

The successful candidate will have experience of forestry operations, developing woodland management plans, managing Health & Safety and will need to be an ambassador for Miserden in all their activities. Candidates will need to have up to date qualifications for felling, chain-saws operation, tractor driving, a full UK driving license and the ability to tow trailers

A competitive salary package will be offered to reflect accommodation, which can be provided as necessary. The Estate supports ongoing personal development.
